The Governing Board of St. Elizabeth Hospital will appoint its administrative staff on Sept. 2 when Ted Eilerman will assume duties as assistant administrator.

With the planning of construction of additional facilities and services, consideration was given to the reorganization of the managerial structure, it was noted. When the position of public relations director was vacant, the Lay Advisory Board recommended that a new position of assistant administrator be created.

Eilerman will join the staff as a graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas. He received his master's degree in hospital administration after completing a residency at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver, Colo.

He received his bachelor of science degree in business administration from Quincy College in Illinois.

He also served as project official at Lutheran General Hospital in San Antonio, Texas.

Furnace Failure Causes GC Steel To Lay Off 800

Granite City Steel Co. has completed arrangements to purchase a substantial tonnage of semi-finished steel in order to continue operations during a period of about five weeks when the company's two blast furnaces will be out of service. Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman and chief executive officer, said yesterday in response to an inquiry by the Press-Record.

The purchased steel will supplement a large in-plant inventory and enable Granite City Steel to maintain normal operation of rolling and finishing facilities.

The company will continue to supply customers and take orders as usual during the period when the iron and steelmaking departments will be down. Granite City Steel produces plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat rolled steel products for a 25-state regional market.

The blast furnace went out of production Aug. 17 after five years of operation for a planned re-lining and modernization.

Unexpected Lining Failure

Five days later, there was an unexpected failure in the refractory brick lining of the company's "B" blast furnace, which had been scheduled to operate for several more years.

The "B" furnace was "blown in" during February 1966.

"This kind of partial failure in the refractory lining after 2½ years of a blast furnace 'campaign' is unusual but not unheard of," Veeder said.

The refractory lining of this furnace will involve a substantial expenditure. Our third-quarter costs will be increased by the necessity of having to purchase outside steel.

Steelmaking immobilized

Granite City Steel will be unable to produce steel from the blast furnaces is refined in the company's basic oxygen furnaces being down has immobilized the company's steelmaking department.

Veeder said approximately 800 employees or 10% of the total work force of 5000, may be idle here while the Koppers Co., of Pittsburgh carries out replacement of the furnace lining, work which will proceed on an emergency basis.

Broadway Underpass Contract Awarded

The long-standing Broadway underpass project at Venice finally has become a reality. Contract for construction of the viaduct was awarded Friday by the Illinois Division of Highways at Springfield to the Nelson Construction Co., Clayton, Mo., on a bid of $20,760, the lowest of four offers received.

The action climaxes more than six years of Illinois Commerce Commission hearings, plan preparations, financial problems and delays over cost shares between the state, the city of Venice and three railroad lines which will operate atop the structure.

Highway engineers said the bid prices cover only the construction of the underpass structure, stormwater drainage system and the pumping station necessary to drainage operations.

Wounded Five Times, Going To Vietnam for Third Time

By DORIS STOTZ

In this controversial world of hate breeders, flag burners, draft dodgers and violence, a student of SIU, both are graduates of Granite City High School.

A shining example in the midst of our social discord, he is Army Sgt. Lynn H. Mitkos. Although he has been wounded five times, he has volunteered for his third tour of duty in Vietnam.

Sgt. Mitkos is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mitkos, 2324 Forest avenue. He has a twin brother, Leslie Mitkos, a student of SIU. Both are graduates of Granite City High School.

Cited for Valor

This serviceman has distinguished himself by numerous valorous actions.

He has been awarded four Purple Heart Medals, Bronze Star, the Army Commendation Medal with "V" Device, Good Conduct Medal and Vietnam Service Medal (second award).

Early this year, he received a fourth oak leaf cluster and the Soldier's Medal.

The sergeant enlisted in the Army June 10, 1964, and arrived in Vietnam with the 101st Airborne Division in 1965. He remained there 12 months and sustained shrapnel wounds in combat against the Viet Cong.

He returned to the U. S. in 1966 and was stationed at Alameda, where he served one year with the Ninth Infantry Division at Fort Wainwright. An expert in guerrilla and counter guerrilla warfare, he instructed classes in both tactics and worked on the Expert Infantry School at Fort Benning.

It was while serving in Alaska that he volunteered for his second tour of duty in Vietnam, which began Oct. 14, 1967.

City Workers to Seek New Wage Talks Tonight

New wage negotiations between city and union city employees are expected to be initiated tonight in a regularly scheduled session of the Granite City council.

Union leaders representing 140 city employees, who are members of six different unions, said they would be present at tonight's meeting to ask reconsideration of action taken by the council on a contract agreement last Monday night.

That action consisted of council rejection of a wage increase proposal that had been submitted earlier by city leaders. This placed the council in the position of rejecting its own contract proposal.

The council's offer encompassed a $55-per-month wage boost across the board for all city union employees, regardless of departmental jobs and assurances that present sick leave provisions would remain unchanged. The council also agreed to time-and-a-half for overtime on "call-out" assignments.

Unions Accepted

While the union accepted acceptance of the proposal in last Monday's meeting, the council rejected the agreement to a final vote because of terms that also would have raised the base pay of 13 pollution treatment plant workers in addition to the $55 monthly wage increase.

Plans first were discussed for arranging a new meeting between street cleaners and union leaders through intervention of U. S. mediators from St. Louis, but the unions decided later to wait until tonight's meeting to request reconsideration of the plan rejected a week ago.

Meanwhile, picketing of the city hall continued. Last Thursday and Friday the firefighters' union recalled their pickets because of the possibility of interfering with tax collections which ended at the city treasurer's office Friday afternoon. The policemen's union, however, continued its picketing activities.

Regular council business is expected to precede the reopening of negotiations on the contract issues.

Several ordinances pertaining to new street signs and parking limitations may be brought before the council tonight, but since discontinuance of the practice of following an agenda, no specific schedule of procedure has been outlined.

Three Undergo Surgery

Leona Fisher, 41, Benton County, Fla., Wilmette, 2023 Bryan avenue, and Geneva Legens, 2807 Harding blvd., are recovering at St. Elizabeth Hospital from surgery which they underwent since Thursday.

Housing, therefore, is one of the major phases of development which the city must first accomplish if it is to realize population growth to any degree.

The master plan projects a population of 51,000 for Granite City by 1985 under normal growth conditions, based on current factors. However, the plan emphasizes that actual population growth will be determined by the extent of annexation.

Residential development, the plan points out, exerts an influence on population simply by the amount and type of land available for development.

13% of Land Undeveloped

Granite City presently has only 13% of its total land area undeveloped, "which will only produce a significant population increase," the plan report notes.

Theodore Mikesell, director of SIMAP, points out that once the plan officially is adopted by the city, and a copy filed with

Board to Meet Today In Closed Session to 'Discuss Situation'

Madison school teachers, with few exceptions, stayed away from their classrooms today—the opening day of school—and plan similar action tomorrow and until the Madison school district meets union wage demands.

At 8:30 a.m. today, the starting time of school, 93 teachers were at a meeting in the Labor Temple on State street to hear an outline of a plan of action. They heard from Rex Carr, attorney for Madison Local 783 of the American Federation of Teachers; Oscar Weil of Springfield, executive secretary of the Illinois Federation of Teachers; and the Local's president, Bernard Long. The meeting continued past 9 a.m.

In the meantime, most of the 3000 Madison school pupils reported for the start of the new school term at 8:30 and were dismissed early.

Supt. Raymond Dragich said the principals and administrative staffs handled new registrations and the youngsters were advised that classes will continue.

He said there were nine new teachers and the administrative staff at the high school, three teachers at the junior high, and one, two or no teachers at the Blair, Dunbar and Louis Bar schools. "Attendance is very good," Dragich said.

Many parents accompanied their children to the schools this morning and entered the buildings with them when bells rang. The pupils and parents left after being inside for only a few minutes.

School Supt. Dragich said the school board is scheduled to meet in a closed session at 2 p.m. today to discuss the personnel situation in connection with the teacher walkout.

The district employs 120 teachers and among them are new teachers who were expected to be in class today. "We don't have an exact count on teacher attendance from all the schools," Dragich said this morning.

At today's meeting of the union teachers, Atty. Carr told the teachers who were expected to be in class today that the school board should seek an injunction of the type obtained last in East St. Louis, it would not concern teachers who feel they do not have a valid contract with the district.

"If they obtain a mandatory injunction, you should receive a notice from the court to appear at a hearing about such an order would take three to five days to prepare. It would be unlikely to come to court hearing to be called before Friday at the earliest," the union lawyer told the teachers.

The teachers, who congregated in Hall Two on the second floor of the Labor Temple, were advised to keep in contact with union officers and to report at 8 a.m. tomorrow and daily to the Labor Temple.

Headquarters Set Up

The union is setting up a headquarters at the Labor Temple, with teachers to call there in the event any question arises.

Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades & Labor Council, said the council has gone on record asking all union members living in the Madison school district to keep their (Continued on page 7, col. 4)

SIU-SW Student Housing Ground Breaking

The days of Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus being 100% a commuter institution are numbered. Officials broke ground Friday morning for a 248-unit apartment complex for students on the north shore of Tower Lake.

University President Delyte W. Morris, SIU-SW Chancellor John S. Rendleman, SIU Trustee Harold R. Fischer of Granite City, board chairman of the First Granite City National Bank and student Rick Fischer of Staunton jointly turned spades of dirt to denote the beginning of construction.

President Morris called the $3.7 million project a must "if a university is to have cohesion... a oneness. We cannot have a coordinated program of activities without a core residential area for the student body within the campus," he added. The architect's design calls for the units to include cooperative apartments to be used by single students, as well as two- and three-bedroom units for families. Financing for the project will come from revenue bonds.

Chancellor Rendleman, in a brief ceremony, called the student housing a necessary step for the university's Southwestern campus. He termed the SIU-SW students, faculty and physical plant among the finest in the country.

President Morris called for students who will live in the facilities to recognize the responsibilities of developing a housing tradition. He added that campus housing is essential to "achieving the high objectives which we seek, plan and hope for the university."

Architect for the complex is Blivas and Page, Chicago. General contractor is Consumers Construction Co.

Other contractors for the project include, for plumbing, Thomas I. Fleming Co. and Cenco Piping Corp. Lavin Sheet Metal Co. has the heating and air-conditioning contract and Rite Electric Co. is the electrical contractor.

Infant Found Dead In Alley, Wrapped In Bag

A newly born infant was found dead in an alley behind 1780 Maple street before 9 a.m. Friday.

The body was in a local grocery shopping bag and was wrapped in a baby blanket. Authorities said the child appeared to be well developed and was about 12 inches long. The bag was first spotted Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Gisella Myers, 1551 Olive street, who noticed an odor. She planned to place it in a trash burner, but when she picked up the bag, she felt something soft and dropped it.

She called an acquaintance, who assumed it was a dead dog and called Terry May, humane officer, who discovered that the body was human.

May called Coroner Leonard R. Davis, who ordered an examination by a St. Louis pathologist.

The bag was about three feet from the fence, and police theorize that someone drove through the alley and dropped the bag out of an auto window. The body had deteriorated, and it was not determined whether the child was a boy or girl, and whether the birth had occurred prematurely.

Carol Seibold, Warren Jones Exchange Vows

In a double ring ceremony performed at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Miss Carol Jean Seibold, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Seibold, 3209 Fehling road, was married to Warren Lee Jones, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jones, 3244 Carlson avenue.

Rev. R. Paul Sims officiated in a candlelight setting. Candles in tall pedestals at eight sides of the altar were decorated with white summer flowers. The candles were lighted by Michael Seibold, a brother of the bride.

Warren Simpkins was soloist, accompanied at the organ by

Mrs. Helen Simpkins, who played the wedding marches. He sang "O Perfect Love," "Wedding Prayer," "A Wedding Benediction" and "Jesus Stands Beside Them."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of organza over English net and tulle. It was designed with an Empire bodice of Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls, a square neckline and Kabuki-type sleeves. The front of the gown was trimmed with lace medallions and pearls.

A full-length detachable train was secured at the waist, falling into a full sweep and

Mrs. Allen Is Honored by Club

Mrs. Dolores Allen was chosen "woman of the month" at a dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's club at the Rose Bowl last week.

Speaker of the evening was Catherine Burton, district chairman of BPW, who discussed the club and what it does for business women. The first BPW was formed in New York May 11, 1918, by 25 women and in July 1919 the National Federation was organized at Hotel Statler in St. Louis.

The Granite City club is almost as old as the State Federation of Illinois, which will celebrate 50 years in 1971. There were 3900 clubs in the United States with a combined membership of 180,000. Illinois is second only to California with a membership of 15,000. The Business and Professional Women's Club is the largest organization in the world stressing wisdom, friendship, opportunity, ideas and triumph in their emblem.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Dorothy Davis, a past president of the local club. Mrs. Maxine Grissman, secretary, was presented with a check for $275 collected to date for the Memorial Fund.

Among coming events announced were the Charity Days at Namsaki Village Sept. 12-14 when the club will have a booth; and the annual style show Oct. 20 at 1:30 p.m. at the Elks Club.

Another special guest introduced at the meeting last night was Gladys Rozicki, district secretary.

trimmed with lace and pearls. The bride's veil of organza flowers and maline netting extended to the floor in soft folds.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses combined with stephanotis and lilies. Mrs. Margaret Wilcox, as matron of honor, and Miss Donna Carpenter and Mrs. Sandra Beal, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in gowns of soft yellow crepe with full pleated panels at the back finished with bows.

Headpieces were bands of roses made of yellow crepe and net and they held bouquets of tangerine pom poms and daisies. Two flower girls, Laura Henderson and Sherri Jones, in short dresses of yellow and headbands of roses and netting, held small baskets of white rings. Kevin Miller carried the rings.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Dean Jones. Jim Marton and Larry Seibold, the latter a brother of the bride, served as groomsmen. William Henley and Ed Schubel were ushers.

The bride's mother selected a medium brown dress of silk chiffon and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore light olive green nylon and beige accessories. Both had gardenia corsages.

A reception was held in Wesley Hall of the church directly after the ceremony. Mrs. Mary Schubel was in charge of the guest book. Others assisting were Mrs. Kenneth McGee and Mrs. Clifford Hickey.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bride's parents Friday evening at the Rose Bowl. After a trip, the couple will live at 2241a Edison avenue.

Rev. Fr. Sylvester Mielek, O.F.M., heard the vows of the couple at an 11:30 Nuptial High Mass.

The bride's Empire gown of ivory silk organza over peau de sole was floor-length. Clusters of Alencon lace on English net featured the scalloped sabrina neckline and short sleeves.

Motifs of lace with seed pearl clusters were used throughout the "A"-line skirt, which ended in a full sweep modified Watteau train banded with scalloped re-embroidered lace and attached at the high waistline with a soft French bow.

A bouffant veil of illusion was secured to a pearl comb and strands of pearls were entwined in the bride's hair. She carried a nosegay of shell pink pom poms and white roses.

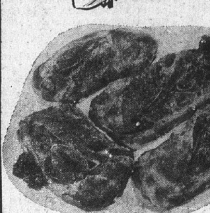

Four attendants Miss Kathleen Krpan, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Miss Susan Poznanovich, Miss Sharon Button and a junior maid, Deborah Krpan, a sister of the bride, were dressed alike in deep beauty rose chiffon over peau de sole made with scoop necklines and short puffed sleeves.

Bass Being Taught to Eat Artificial Food

By PETE BROWN
SIU News Services

The largemouth bass is a fastidious fish, whose eating habits are a source of irritation for some management people.

He spurns all but living food (or what acts like living food) and when he can't catch it, he's in trouble—and so are fishermen who dream of someday hanging into that eight-pounder.

Bass predation in the wild is one of the most effective ways of dealing with overpopulation by other species, notably the fast-reproducing bluegill.

Where bass are present in good and healthy numbers, pond and small lake fishing is usually quite good—other conditions being approximately equal.

Where the species mix is loaded in favor of small sunfish, everybody suffers. Bass sizes drop, the entire food picture becomes distorted, fishing goes sour.

If you could imagine an acre of natural water supporting 500 pounds of bass, you would be thinking of some superlative recreation.

Studies underway at Southern Illinois University's Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory show promise that this may indeed be a realistic goal.

What the SIU fish researchers have done is to teach bass to eat artificial food, just like some goldfish in your parlor bowl.

They started by stocking year-old and adult bass in ponds that have been previously drained and purged of all available food. They let them go hungry for a couple of weeks, and then started tossing in frozen-baited tadpoles.

At first, only a few tadpoles were allowed to the fish. After they became conditioned to the idea, they were given all they'd take.

In another set of ponds, bass were fed three days on frozen tadpoles until they showed the desired feeding response. Then the researchers, crafty fellows, switched to a pelleted chow food.

It got so that at feeding time, the bass would come flashing up to the pellets just like trout and they began to gain weight like mad. Correlations showed that at the end of the experiments, artificial feeding resulted in abnormally high densities of 800 pounds of bass per acre.

Not so encouraging was the amount of food needed to achieve these gains. Bass converted the pellets at something like 10 percent efficiency. It took four pounds of food to get a pound of bass.

Some of the bass never did adapt to the chow or the tadpoles and the researchers think it might have something to do with a kind of social hierarchy in the population. Then again, it could be simply a case of slow learners.

But the experiments—which are continuing, with modifications—strongly suggest that if you could come up with a ration designed strictly for bass, you might get some good control.

They started by stocking year-old and adult bass in ponds that have been previously drained and purged of all available

Inter-City Entry in Tourney Semifinals

Semi-final action in the 1968 Tournament of Champions will take place at 8 p.m. Tuesday in two locations.

At the ABC park in St. Ann, Mo., Collinsville Molitor of the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League will oppose Flint Hill of the East Missouri Baseball Association West League.

At the Becker stadium in Ill. park, Hoffmeister of the Heine Meine League will meet Livingston of the 3-M League of Illinois.

Winners of those two games will be matched at 8 p.m. Thursday in the final game of the tournament at a location which will depend on the outcome of the semifinal contests.

Tickets for these remaining games are available from league officials and at the field for $1 each. Proceeds will be distributed among participating leagues.

Quarterfinal games were played last week, with Collinsville downing St. Gabriel of the Catholic Youth Council by a score of 16-0.

Flint Hill defeated Union Prichard of St. Louis County Baseball League 9-2; Livingston eked out a 1-0 victory over Germantown of Clinton County, Ill. Baseball League and Hoffmeister beat the Waterloo Buds of the Mon-Clark Baseball League 2-0 Thursday.

MORE ABOUT Faculty

children out of school for the duration of the wage dispute.

In addressing the teachers, the state union officer, Weil, urged them to continue support of their present stand. "We are hopeful the board will not be able to maintain its anti-union attitude," he said.

At a school board meeting Thursday night, John Gitchoff, school attorney, discussed seeking a court injunction against each individual teacher who failed to report to the classroom.

He noted that no individuals' resignations have been submitted to the board, as would be required by law, and that the "mass resignation" submitted in a letter by the union attorney was illegal.

Gitchoff said that if the court rules that the resignations are legal, the teachers lose all their seniority, pension and separation pay, and the school board could proceed to employ replacements.

If the court rules that the mass resignations are not valid, and teachers refuse to return to work as ordered by an injunction, they could be held in contempt of court, jailed or fined, and be subject to revocation of their teacher certificates, Gitchoff asserted.

Consent Required Gitchoff said that the teachers at this time cannot resign without the consent of the board, and that no one can resign for them, as the law shows that they are under individual contracts and must sign their own resignations. The union representative may serve as their spokesman, he added.

The union is asking for salaries of $77 per month for first-year teachers with bachelor's degree, an increase of $122 per month over a year ago (yearly total divided by nine), and a top of $1335 per month for teachers with master's degrees plus 30 graduate semester hours after 12 years, an increase of $261 per month over a year ago.

Board members said salary and other demands would cost $1.4 million.

It was noted that the contract offer by the board made to individual teachers still stands. It includes salary increases of $3 to $77 per month, including $89 to $1036 per month for teachers holding bachelor's degrees, $767 to $1133 for those with master's degrees, and $800 to $1187 for those with master's degrees plus 30 hours of graduate credits.

In addition, teachers receive annual increments of $260 per year, or $29 monthly. It was pointed out that about 60% of the overall faculty are at the top of the salary schedule with more than 12 years of service.

Supt. Dragich reported that new teachers and some returning teachers have signed and returned their contracts, but he declined to say how many.

Harold T. Flisk, board member, claimed that a resolution adopted by the union to assess daily fines of $50 upon teachers who report for work, is illegal in that it violates the Taft-Hartley law. He called the fines an "idle threat."

Oel Blumentstock, board president, charged that Carr is responsible for all of the difficulties.

Gitchoff disagreed, saying that Carr was hired to represent the teachers and is working toward their best interest. "What Carr wants and what he can get are two different things," Gitchoff said.

Summer Salaries Board members disclaimed Carr's statements that the school district has a surplus of $118,000 for teacher salaries.

Carr obtained that figure, it was pointed out, from a preliminary report to the board, but the amount was on hand to pay teacher salaries during the summer months.

About 90% of the teachers receive payments throughout the year, Supt. Dragich said, rather than on a nine-month basis, as provided which the district has service which the district has provided at a monetary and time expense to the district.

Board member John Belloff noted that $107,000 was set aside for four payrolls during the summer, and the figure does not represent a surplus. It was suggested that the board discontinue its policy of spreading salaries over 26 payments and revert to 20 pay periods a year.

The board, however, wants to continue the service to the teachers and it was agreed to withhold any action on changing the policy.

Belloff said that the board through the years has had little difficulty with the union in reaching contract agreements, and that the board and the union's negotiating committee had agreed on other terms and benefits during earlier meetings.

Sole Spokesman After a stalemate was reached, he added, Carr announced that he would be the sole spokesman for the teachers, and that any terms previously reached had been dropped.

Belloff said that Carr informed the board that it was "not dealing with professional people but with union people," and demanded a starting salary of $7500 "for no teachers on Monday." Carr last week said he had asked for a $7000 annual figure.

Board members also related that Carr urged that the board borrow $300,000 to finance the demands. When members asked about means of repayment, they were told not to worry, that they would be "hit" with the same thing next year.

Chester McMannaway, a board member, commented that teachers and the board have worked so well in the past. Now some influential teachers have gone astray and are leading the sheep to the brink with Rex Carr.

Legal Opinions During the discussion, Dragich reported that the following legal opinions were presented by Wilbur Trimpe, county superintendent of schools, at a meeting in Edwardsville:

Personal leave for teachers is illegal. The legislature tried to provide for this in 1967 but failed.

Separation or terminal pay for teachers is illegal.

When a substitute is hired to replace a teacher whose absence is unexcused, the teacher may not be paid the difference between the amount paid the substitute and the said teacher's salary.

If a tax objection suit were brought because the board authorized payment of money to

Delay By Train Causes Switch of Ambulances

A Terminal Railroad Association train blocked the crossing on Madison avenue near 14th street in Madison from 4 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday, causing an ambulance to become inoperable and its patient to be transferred to another ambulance for the trip to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Madison police reported.

The patient was receiving oxygen, and the long wait in the hot sun, coupled the operation of the equipment, caused the ambulance engine to overheat. The blocked crossing backed up auto traffic as far south as Seventh street in Madison, officers said.

The right front of the south-bound auto of Joseph Arico, 3117 Jill avenue, struck the rear of the parked car of Raymond Sparks, 2421 Madison avenue, there at 11:30 p.m. Saturday. The motorist said he had been trying to chase a bug from the interior of his car.

$4,170,000 SIU-SW Physical Education Building Okayed

Gov. Shapiro on Friday signed a bill for construction of a $4,170,000 SIU-SW physical education building.

The new law appropriates $53,210 for rental of the building, with the Illinois Building Authority designated to retire revenue bonds issued to obtain funds for the project.

He also approved a bill increasing the authorized interest rate for revenue bonds issued under the SIU revenue bond act.

Gov. Shapiro signed a bill to erect state regional office buildings costing $1,870,000 at Collinsville and $1,800,000 at Marion.

He vetoed a bill that would have provided for payment of $10,000 to a beneficiary of a policeman, fireman, peace officer or correctional officer slain in the line of duty. He said such payment should be part of retirement systems. Citing enforcement difficulty, he vetoed a requirement that Chicago taxicabs "built after Jan. 1, 1970, have a bulletproof shield between the driver and passengers."

He signed bills to vest railroad policemen with police powers and to limit highway speed to 55 miles an hour for house cars, trailers, campers and private living coaches.

Venice Hit-Run Crash

A hit-and-run driver is being sought for damaging the left side of the parked car of Larry Hartman, 528 Washington ave. Venice, in the 1200 block of Klein street, Venice, at 7:15 p.m. Friday. Crown Company Buys Citizens Industrial Firm

Albert Schumacher began duties this morning as manager of the former Citizens Industrial Finance Co., 1320 Niedringhaus avenue, newly purchased by the Crown Finance Co., St. Louis.

Sale of Citizens Industrial Finance, established in 1926, was announced Friday by Lenard Fleishman, president. Ralph Morris has been secretary-treasurer of the consumer loan firm with Leonard Hopkins as vice-president, and the five-member board also has included Theodore Overbeck and Charles F. Reimers.

Fleishman's father, the late Nathan Fleishman, served as president of the company for most of its existence, having joined with the late A. W. Morris in founding it. Reimers was the original manager, remaining in that position until retiring about seven years ago.

The sale was attributed to a trend which has seen the consolidation of numerous financial businesses.

In announcing the appointment of Schumacher as manager, Kenneth Koupal, Crown Finance executive vice-president, said he is being transferred here from the Warrensburg, Mo., office. Schumacher has been with Crown for the past ten years.

Crown Finance was organized in 1927 in Flat River, Mo., by Kenneth Kirkland and Vincent Shaw.

Since then, it has expanded to 60 offices in seven midwestern states — Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Iowa and Oklahoma.

The largest number of Crown Finance Co. offices is in Illinois, Koupal told the Press-Record. Carl Hartman is president of the firm, which has its headquarters in St. Louis.

Three Flee Madison Police, Rearrested

Three St. Louis youths arrested in Madison on a disorderly conduct charge for drinking on the street fled from the officers early Friday morning while on their way to the police station. Rearrested later, they were named on a total of seven complaints.

Police reported that at 2:30 a.m. Friday they were sent to Third street and Madison avenue, where they found the trio outside Tony & Joe's tavern, drinking beer. The youths were told they were under arrest and were instructed to get into their car and follow the police car to headquarters.

On Madison avenue the patrol car turned right toward police headquarters, but the other car allegedly turned left at Fourth street toward State street. Police gave chase, overtaking the car headed west on Market street. The trio was placed in Madison and Venice police cars and was taken to headquarters; their car was towed in.

Police booked Robert Paul Lewis, 18, on charges of drinking as a minor and disorderly conduct; Leo J. Klimkiewicz, 21, charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and disorderly conduct; and Robert Lee Channess, 21, charges of disorderly conduct, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and disobeying an officer.

MRS. KENNETH E. HORVATH, a bride of Saturday. Before her wedding at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Collinsville, she was Diana Barfield, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Barfield of Glen Carbon.

Miss Diana Barfield, Kenneth Horvath Wed

Miss Diana Barfield became Mrs. Kenneth E. Horvath Saturday evening in a ceremony taking place at Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Collinsville. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Barfield of Glen Carbon. Mr. Horvath's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Horvath of Edwardsville. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Robert Kamparth. Candles lighted the sanctuary and the altar was adorned with arrangements of white summer flowers. White satin bows marked the pews along the aisle and the candelabra. Mr. Barfield escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. Her gown of Chantilly lace had a scoop and scalloped neckline, a fitted bodice and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt of lace had sequin accents and a detachable train attached at the shoulders formed tiers of ruffles edged with sequins and ending in the full train. A forward headpiece of sequins and pearls secured a double cloud veil of silk illusion and the bride carried a large drop bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley, stephanotis and greenery with a removable corsage center. Music for the ceremony was provided by Theodore Rex, organist, and Russell Barth, "The songs were the Lord's Prayer and "Because."

Governor Okays $50,000 Fund for Airport Survey

An Illinois legislative bill to appropriate $50,000 for an engineering survey of potential sites for location of a second major airport in the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area was signed into law by Governor Samuel H. Hanft today.

The bill, which had the governor's sponsorship in the July special session of the legislature, is directed toward location of any new major airport on the Illinois side of the metropolitan region, but state officials have said the money will be used for a study of both Illinois and Missouri areas.

A task force headed by Gene Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, and J. E. Wenzel, director of the Illinois Department of Aeronautics, has been named by the governor to lead a drive for location of the airport in the Madison-St. Clair-Monroe counties area on the Illinois side.

Larger Fund Requested

A bill asking $100,000 for the engineering study was defeated in the July legislative session, but the $50,000 appropriation was approved later through amendment of another bill.

The governor also signed a bill appropriating $225,000 for the Southwest Regional Port District to finance purchase of land for expansion of the Bi-State Parks Airport at Cahokia. A similar bill providing the same amount was vetoed last year by former Governor Otto Kerner.

Graves and Wenzel, co-chairmen of the state's task force, have held one meeting with representatives of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and have suggested that the engineering study be conducted by the Gateway Council.

Says Illinois Sites Best

Graves told a meeting of public officials and business representatives of the area in Granite City recently that the state is confident that if all sides are fairly considered, an Illinois site for the proposed airport will be approved.

The state appropriation for purchase of the Parks Airport land was passed as an emergency measure to provide for expansion of runways. The longest runway at Bi-State Parks Airport now is 4025 feet. Plans call for construction of a 500-foot runway soon and a 7000-foot runway by 1971. The 7000-foot runway would be large enough to handle many jet craft. Bi-State Parks is operated by the Bi-State Development Agency.

Day Care Service for Children Must Be Licensed By the State

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Interested in taking in small children for day care in your home?

Then the first thing you must do is obtain a license.

Under state law you need a license to provide day care in your home for any child or children not related to you, unless you are providing such care under direct supervision of a court or a licensed child welfare agency.

Licenses are issued by the State Department of Children and Family Services. There is no charge for the license and the applicant and the home must meet minimum standards set by the Department.

The person providing care must be a responsible, mature individual of reputable character who can exercise good judgment in caring for children.

Her home must be adequate, safe, clean, well-ventilated, properly lighted and heated.

One of three types of licenses can be issued by the department, depending upon the number of children for whom day care is to be provided, and other qualifications. Here are the three categories:

DAY CARE HOME: Permits a person to provide day care in her home for not more than four children (a higher number may be allowed if the children are from the same family).

GROUP CARE HOME: Allows a person to provide day care in her home for five to eight children. Ordinarily, the person who qualifies for this license must have a full-time helper.

DAY CARE CENTER: Permits operation of a professional type of day care facility, such as the nursery school, for care of nine or more children.

The Department of Children and Family Services has authority to license a home for fewer than the stipulated legal maximums.

A person who has children of her own under the age of 18 may not be allowed to care for as many children as a childless person or a person whose children are grown.

A person who operates a child care facility without a license, or who advertises any service which is not authorized under the person's license, is subject to a fine of $100 to $1000, imprisonment of up to one year or both.

UN Role in Rebuilding Vietnam

(U. S. Department of State)

Southeast Asia's Future
Enclosed please find a statement regarding our country's policy toward Vietnam which represents the views of the members of our Chapter's Policy Committee who have signed it.

It will not surprise you to have me say that our Committee has discussed the Vietnam problem on many occasions.

Even when we find ourselves in agreement on suggestions for deescalating the war, there are still many who feel that we should make comments public because we believe it may hurt the chance of success in finding some area of negotiation.

So this statement continues itself to the post-war problem and urges that thought be given now to that matter and participation to the creation of a multi-national group—probably including the United Nations—through which our own aid can be channeled for the reconstruction of that unhappy country.

We are particularly eager that thought be given now to the problem before the U. S. commits itself further toward unilateral aid.

In fact, a commitment to a U. N. Economic Commission for Southeast Asia might add strength to our protestations that we have no imperialist aims.

C. W.

Dear Mrs. W.:
The question of future economic development in this region has been a matter of continuing concern.

President Johnson in his Johns Hopkins speech of April 1965, for example, stated that the United States would be willing to invest one billion dollars in economic development in Asia, including North Vietnam, as soon as that country made peaceful cooperation possible.

Hanoi has to date chosen otherwise and has intensified its aggression.

Although massive economic development cannot be isolated from political and security realities, the government and people of South Vietnam are engaged, with technical and economic assistance from 31 other nations, in a struggle for economic and social development.

We are enclosing a copy of President Johnson's speech at Johns Hopkins and a copy of the "Three Statements of Manila Conference," as well as selected material on aid to East Asia and Vietnam, which we believe our committee will find of interest.

Slavery Not Flourishing
Can you advise me if any nations of the world today practice slavery? If so, please send me their names.

J. R. G.

Dear Mr. G.:
There is no country today which recognizes slavery as a legal institution.

There have been various reports of clandestine slave trading and of practices resembling slavery.

The United Nations has given careful attention to these reports, and has recognized an expert, Ahmad Alawad of the United Arab Republic as Special Representative.

This has been published and can be purchased for $4.50 from the UN Office of Publications, UN Headquarters, Room 1069, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Since governments are now trying to stamp out any vestiges of slavery which may remain in their territories, the United Nations is trying to plan types of technical assistance to further this goal which members can request. The enclosed documents may be of interest to you.

Do you have an inquiry? Send it to: "The Diplomatic Pouch," P.O. Box 638, U. S. Department of State, Washington, D. C. 20520.

LOCAL FRIENDSHIP SHOWN BY STORM AID
To the Editor:

The day that the storm hit Granite City and the days following proved to me that there are some people living here who are willing to help their neighbor when he needs it.

Two large trees were blown over, and the men from the power company and the city workers and my neighbors and friends generously helped me clear them up.

I want all of them to know I am grateful to all who helped.

State to Lose Millions Unless It Creates Crime Control Plan

William J. Scott, Republican candidate for Illinois attorney general, warned last week that the state stands to lose millions of dollars unless immediate steps are taken to qualify for federal funds available under the new omnibus crime control bill.

In a letter to Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro, Scott pointed out that the initial federal requirement is for the state to submit a comprehensive state crime-control plan.

"There is no time to lose," Scott said. "The federal act will enable Illinois to institute vital programs to cope with the complex problems of the day and to win the war against organized crime."

The GOP candidate pointed out that major programs he has been urging during the current campaign could be largely funded through the federal crime-control act.

"These include inauguration of a massive education program in the public schools stressing the rights and responsibilities of every citizen. Sixty percent of the money needed for this program would come from the grant," Scott said.

The state universities should establish a four-year Academy for State and Local Police. Again, the federal act would provide 60% of the needed funds. If buildings or construction were involved, the federal government would meet 50% of the costs.

"I give top priority in our war against organized crime to establishment of a State Criminal Bureau of Investigation. The federal act would provide 75% of the funds needed for recruiting, training, staffing and prosecuting personnel."

Seventy-five percent of the money needed for special education, training and equipment for riot control will be provided by the act.

Direct Aid for Salaries
"And, finally, the federal act will make available a sizeable amount of money that can be dispensed in the form of direct aid to local communities to enable them to raise police salaries."

The whole thrust of the federal act is to retain state and local control, but to make money available for new concepts and new approaches to law enforcement," Scott said. The omnibus crime bill will be administered by the U. S. Department of Justice under the authority of the U. S. attorney general.

A Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, established within the Justice Department, will make grants to states that have submitted approved comprehensive state law enforcement plans.

Visual Arts Training Session Here Sept. 12

Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page, with the cooperation of the Granite City school district, of which B. J. Davis is superintendent and Eugene Alaisi is consultant of art education, will offer a training institute in visual arts Sept. 12 at the Granite City high school auditorium.

Approximately 185 art educators, representing public and non-public schools, colleges and universities throughout a 19-county area of southern Illinois, have been invited to participate.

The seminar is to be the first held in Illinois following an original April 30, 1968 seminar held in Chicago. Objectives of the regional meeting are to continue in the identification of major problems affecting art education in the state, to determine and recommend solutions to these problems, and to introduce and make participants aware of innovative approaches in the teaching of art.

The meeting will open with a display of new visual material. A welcome will be given by Davis and Alaisi.

A talk entitled, "A Challenge," will be given by William Bolner, state supervisor of art education.

The next lecture on "Behavioral Objectives in Art" is to be presented by Dr. Altvater, an instructor at SIU-SW.

A demonstration on "Teaching of the Humanities" will be given by James Hill, art supervisor, from Wood River, and Trends in Visual Arts" will be the topic of Mrs. Ruth Esserman, superintendent of art, Highland Park, Ill.

The all-day session will conclude with a lecture by William Bealmer on "The Future."

Hours will be 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. with a lunch served in the school cafeteria from noon to 1 p.m.

12 of 80 School Bus Routes in GC To New Jr. High

Twelve buses will be used to transport students to the new Grigsby junior high school, Granite City school district officials have announced.

Service along all 80 school bus routes will start tomorrow, with pupils attending half-day sessions at Granite City public schools.

All school bus routes and schedules are to remain the same as last year, with the exception of Coolidge junior high school, where the majority of pupils requiring bus transportation from outlying areas have been transferred to Grigsby JHS.

Only one bus will serve eligible Coolidge students, instead of the nine vehicles utilized in the 1967-68 school year, Elmer L. Jackson, District Nine transportation director, pointed out. The single Coolidge route, designated Bus 20, also remains the same as last year.

Bus 20 service to Coolidge will originate from West Ponton road, near The Commodore nursing home entrance, at 8 a.m., picking up pupils residing north of Ferguson avenue on Nameoki road and Countess blvd., Union, Wilcox and Minerva avenues to the junction of Nameoki road (Route 203) and Morrison road, and along Old Alton road.

Dr. Murney New Mental Health Area Coordinator

The 17 counties which geographically make up Mental Health Zone VII serviced by Alton State Hospital, have been divided into four sub-zones, and will serve as planning areas for Community Comprehensive Mental Health Program.

An announcement from Dr. Ivan Pavlovic, Zone VII director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health, and Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent of Alton State, has named Dr. Richard Murney to serve as director of the Madison County Sub-zone Comprehensive Mental Health Program, with offices based at the hospital.

Similar comprehensive programs are being initiated in the other three sub-zones of Zone VII. These sub-zones are St. Clair-Monroe Sub-zone, directed by Dr. Milton Freedman, with offices at 310 N. 10th, East St. Louis; the Central-Cause Sub-zone consisting of Bond, Clay, Clinton, Fayette, Jefferson, Marion, Washington and Wayne counties, directed by John Seeman, to be located at the Warren G. Murray Children's Center in Centralia; and the Far-Eastern Sub-zone of Crawford, Edwards, Jasper, Lawrence, Richland, and Washington counties, directed by Miss Margaret Tighe, stationed at the Olney Courthouse. Sub-zone staffs will be developing community mental health programs, education and coordinate their services with personnel and programs of all health agencies within Mental Health Zone VII.

Dr. Murney's staff will consist of Charles Townsend, community services coordinator; Mrs. Jo Crouch, social worker; and Mrs. Jeannine Duncan, mental health educator.

Two other employees of the staff, Sherman Sklar and Mrs. Ann Wilson, are returning to nearby universities in September to complete their doctoral programs.

In stating the objectives of the Madison county staff, Dr. Murney said, "In order to provide a comprehensive mental health program, we should provide a program that would encompass the following areas: In-hospital care, out-patient service, emergency service, educational programs, research programs and methods of prevention.

Dr. Murney also said that an example of this coordinated effort may be seen in the opening of a day-care hospital within the Madison county unit of Alton State Hospital. This day-care hospital, which first of its kind in the Alton area, is scheduled to begin Sept. 1.

The program is designed for clients who will use the facilities during the day and return to their homes each evening. Facilities for the Day-Care Hospital will be made available in the Diagnostic Building from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily.

Second Urban School Hearing on Saturday

School problems of the urban area will be discussed at a public hearing Aug. 31 at 10 a.m. at the Southern Illinois University Center at East St. Louis, Tenth and Ohio streets.

The Urban Problems Commission of the Illinois School Problems Commission will hold the hearing. It is expected that representatives from various school groups of this region will testify.

Also scheduled to appear before the commission is W. Deane Wiley, dean of the SIU-SW Education Division.

Persons wishing to testify should notify Mrs. Mildred M. Kittell, School Problems Commission, Room 600-602, State House, Springfield.

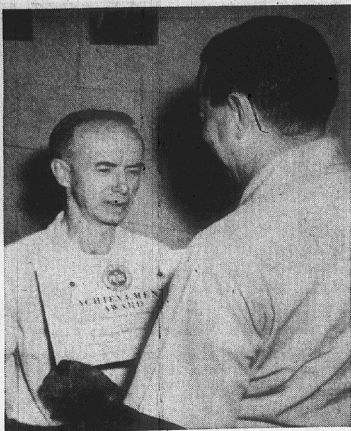

Those who plan to testify also need to file an abstract of their presentation with Mrs. Kittell. In addition, the commission asks persons who appear to have 25 copies of their written presentation to give to commission members.

Sen. Eather Saperstein of Chicago is chairman of the 21-member commission and George T. Wilkins sr. of Granite City is vice-chairman.

The group held a hearing earlier this month on the Southwestern campus of SIU and announced at that time plans to hold a second hearing in East St. Louis. The second hearing was scheduled because commission members felt a more comprehensive picture of problems experienced in East St. Louis and the entire metropolitan area could be served by going to East St. Louis.

Season Champion Baseball Teams Of Granite City Park District

By BILL LEHMANN

The Granite City park district boys' baseball program for 1968 has come to a close, but memories of it will be retained by many boys and young men for the rest of their lives.

Playing on a team offers more than just a chance for a boy to learn baseball, it gives him a chance to meet new friends and to improve his physical coordination and above all, it provides leadership training and other experience that can influence his thinking in everyday matters that arise off the ballfield.

It teaches him to get along with his fellow players, and it teaches him good sportsmanship.

Baseball for boys started in Granite City under the George Khoury league system, with Granite City police and Dr. Leo M. Coleman instrumental in its operation. It was turned over to the park district in 1960. The result over the years has been a steady increase in quality and quantity.

The late George Khoury, regarded as many as a genius, wisely set up a system of graduated competition for eight age groups.

He created five sets of diamond specifications. For example, a team composed of boys aged seven to nine, called Atoms, plays on a field that has a pitching distance of 36 feet and bases 60 feet apart.

Boys who fall into the 10-11 bracket, Bantams, have the same distance between bases but, because they are a little older, the pitching distance is moved back to 40 feet.

The 12-13-year-olds, known as Midgets, play on fields with 70-foot base paths and pitch from 46 feet.

Those 14 and 15, termed Juveniles, are divided into first- and second-year divisions. The first-year division pitches 55 feet and runs bases 80 feet apart, while in the second year the distances are 60½ and 90 feet.

Injuries Reduced

The varying dimensions permit the youngsters to develop their arms and legs properly and doesn't force them to over-exert themselves at an early age.

The Granite City park district is divided into these age groups as well as divisions and leagues.

First-year Atoms consist of the Dal Maxvill League Reds and Blues. Second-year Atoms are called the Saly Parker League.

The first-year Bantams are divided into the Larry Schoeber Red and Blue Leagues, and the second-year Bantams form the Owen Friend League.

First-year Midgets are either in the Police League or Jim Holland League. The second-year boys are in either the Smokey Padgett Blues or Reds.

The first-year Juveniles are divided into Slim Culp Blues and Blues groups; in the second year, they make up the Doc Coleman League.

Juniors (16-17) are in the only league that carries no league name.

In the pictures that appear on this page are teams which won first place in regular 1968 season league play at the park district diamonds. They will all be invited to a park district banquet in mid-November. The names under the photos are in order from left to right.

105 New Faculty Members in GC Are Welcomed

A total of 105 new Granite City teachers, including several who were employed here during part of the last school year, received honors at a breakfast Friday morning at Granite City high school.

The instructors later took part in orientation meetings conducted by assistant to the Superintendent Rea for secondary teachers and Personnel Administrator Earl Lee for elementary faculty members. Assistant Supt. Frank Kraus was toastmaster.

School Board President E. W. Walton welcomed the new staff members and said they are now associated with the district and the system and the friendliest community anywhere. It was noted that they are to be honored at numerous local gatherings in coming weeks.

County School Supt. Wilbur R. L. Trimpe outlined duties and rights and said that, despite the large number of new teachers, the faculty turnover was not marked, reflecting the excellence of the program. He noted that many of the new teachers were graduates of the American Federation of Teachers, Granite City Education Association and Granite City Community Unit District Credit Union.

John Bloodworth, Associated Retailers president, and members of the school board were introduced.

State Capitol NEWS

A marker commemorating the part of Plum River Falls in the history of Carroll county and Illinois was dedicated Aug. 20 at Savanna.

Throughout the 1900s, steamboats navigated to this point where Plum River Falls powered flour, powder, and grist mills between 1835 and 1885. Russell C. Birk is supervisor of historical markers for the Illinois State Historical Society.

Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro keynoteed the Aug. 21 meeting of the Illinois Association of Community Action Agencies in Springfield. The association is comprised of persons involved in local anti-poverty programs throughout Illinois.

An information center for boaters in the Chicago area opened Aug. 15 in Diversely Harbor. The center will be operated jointly by the U. S. Coast Guard, the Illinois Department of Conservation and various volunteer groups. It will provide data on water and weather conditions and is one of four centers established nationally during 1968 on a trial basis.

Police Academy
The August graduating class of 51 brought the number of state troopers now on duty to 1356, according to Gov. Shapiro, who addressed the graduating class in Springfield.

Additional training classes will be started this fall. Recruiting officers are on duty in each district the second Saturday of each month.

Academy Tests
Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro announced that examinations for entrance into the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will begin Dec. 7.

Arrangements to take the tests should be made by the applicant through his school guidance counselor prior to Nov. 2. The examinations will be given in over 3000 test centers.

Bill Oks Change For TB Sans

The final obstacle to disposition of the Madison County Sanatorium appears to have been hurdled with the signing into law last week of an amendment to the Illinois Tuberculosis Sanatorium Act, permitting sanatoriums to be converted to other purposes.

The county sanatorium plans to discontinue its operation about Jan. 1, except for the outpatient clinic which will be maintained on the building's first floor. Patients will be transferred to other hospitals. The few patients at the sanatorium has led to the decision to close.

Plans to turn the county TB sanatorium into a nursing home are under study.

3rd Fire Destroys 'Hillbilly' Tavern

The Hillbilly Haven tavern on Route 111 north of Interstate 70 was completely demolished when the third fire in the past six weeks swept through the structure about 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Chief Jack Harper of the Long Lake volunteer fire department said gasoline or other inflammable fluids apparently was poured about the building to start the blaze.

"Everything was quiet at the tavern when a volunteer fireman passed by about ten minutes before the call came in. By the time we arrived, the flames were really going and the roof had caved in," Harper explained. The fire had progressed too far to save any portion of the structure, he added.

On Saturday, Aug. 3, a blaze destroyed most of the tavern's interior and a month earlier the Long Lake fire department had responded to a call at the same place. Two piles of wood and paper were discovered at separate locations inside the building following the Aug. 3 fire.

Long Lake firemen also extinguished a grease fire at the Family Restaurant on Highway 162, at 1:45 p.m. yesterday, Harper said. Damage to the kitchen was estimated at $25.

Fast Start for Modern Living

Booth Sales

Booth sales for the Granite City Rotary Modern Living Show are off to a fast start, James Louis, chairman of the booth sales and planning, announced today.

There are still choice selections available for interested businessmen and organizations, Louis reported.

A "booth sales blitz" meeting was held last week to make further plans for the show, with Carl Mathias, general chairman, and Warren Decatur, club president.

The Modern Living Show is to be held at the Wilson Park ice rink pavilion Sept. 19 to 22. It will feature latest home appliances, labor-saving devices, clothing, draperies, carpeting, furniture and a number of informational booths distributing literature on a variety of subjects, including political information on candidates in the fourth coming election. Booths are 8x10 feet in size.

Proceeds of the show will be used by the Rotarians to renovate the auditorium of the YMCA in a new decor. To be known as the Downtown Civic Center, the 30x75-foot room will have a lowered ceiling, chandeliers and new drapes.

Redevelopment, the report adds, can be instituted by private concerns or the federal government, although the federal government, since 1940, has taken the principal responsibility for redevelopment.

Urban renewal projects: This program provides grants for planning advances, temporary loans, and guarantees to help public agencies eliminate and non-residential area. Activities can involve land clearing.

Code Enforcement program: Provides grants to cities, counties and other municipalities for planning and administering centralized code enforcement programs in selected local areas. The programs are both remedial and preventative.

These are the programs, SIMPAC explains, which may be put to good use by Granite City in the years to come.

Practically all are subject to application to municipal bodies of one type or another, and together they may provide many millions of dollars in the city's future development.

MORE ABOUT

has some substantial housing within its confines.

Maintain Adequate Housing The plan suggests that Granite City can treat its housing code in three general ways—conservation, rehabilitation and redevelopment. Conservation, it says, prevents the cause of blight.

It requires suitable land use and density patterns, strict enforcement of housing codes and related codes, effective performance of municipal housekeeping functions and adequate community facilities.

Conservation areas are areas of sound housing with very few substantial units.

Rehabilitation prevents the causes and removes the physical signs of blight, the report asserts. It requires renovation of all deteriorated structures to make them sanitary, safe and suitable for human occupancy.

Redevelopment, on the other hand, is the process of clearing the land of dilapidated structures by demolition and making the land available for the most suitable use.

Redevelopment, the report adds, can be instituted by private concerns or the federal government, although the federal government, since 1940, has taken the principal responsibility for redevelopment.

Urban renewal projects: This program provides grants for planning advances, temporary loans, and guarantees to help public agencies eliminate and non-residential area. Activities can involve land clearing.

Code Enforcement program: Provides grants to cities, counties and other municipalities for planning and administering centralized code enforcement programs in selected local areas. The programs are both remedial and preventative.

These are the programs, SIMPAC explains, which may be put to good use by Granite City in the years to come.

Practically all are subject to application to municipal bodies of one type or another, and together they may provide many millions of dollars in the city's future development.

repaired 243 dwelling units as a result of code enforcement. The plan report observes: "This would seem to indicate that Granite City's substantial housing problem would be controlled by code enforcement, renovation and a limited amount of demolitions."

Several Options Available Granite City has available a number of federal agencies to which it may turn for aid in rehabilitation and redevelopment of blighted areas, and in meeting the housing needs of low-income families, elderly, disabled and the handicapped, the report notes.

Briefly, these include: Public housing program for senior citizens, providing financial assistance to local housing in meeting the needs of low-income families, the elderly and disabled.

Low-rent public housing: Provides financial assistance to local housing authorities to enable them to provide adequate low-rent housing for low income families, elderly, disabled and the handicapped.

Demolition program: Provides grants to cities, counties and other municipalities for planning and administering centralized code enforcement programs in selected local areas. The programs are both remedial and preventative.

These are the programs, SIMPAC explains, which may be put to good use by Granite City in the years to come.

Practically all are subject to application to municipal bodies of one type or another, and together they may provide many millions of dollars in the city's future development.

Levee District Studies Loan Cost

Officials of the East Side Levee & Sanitary district are to consider action for possible repayment of a $50,000 balance of an advance planning loan from the Federal Housing Agency for a district-wide sewage treatment plant system.

Admiral Kraemer, chief engineer for the levee district, said about $13,000 of the original loan has been repaid, but that it is anticipated the levee district should be credited for the cost of the advance planning which included the cities of Granite City, East St. Louis and Sauget that erected their own treatment plants.

"I'm sure they benefited from our plans, and the matter of repayment remains up in the air. FHA may write it off or they might turn the matter over to the Federal Department of Justice."

"We're in the process of trying to get more information on what is expected of the district now. It was several months ago that FHA sent an inspector here from the Chicago office to look over our records, and we provided the loan payment costs in the district's construction bond issues," the engineer added.

Parking Lot Mishap As the auto of Clarence Dixon, 1240 Oriole street, Venice, was backing on the Venice city hall parking lot at 2:40 p.m. Friday, it struck the left rear fender of the parked car of Gladys Terrell, 701½ Franklin street, West Madison.
